The Trust Signal Creator Pledge

A Commitment to Credibility, Transparency, and Accountability

Welcome to The Trust Signal community. By adopting this badge system, you are joining a movement to build a more trustworthy and transparent digital ecosystem. This pledge outlines the principles and practices required to earn and display The Trust Signal badges.

As a participating creator, I understand that my audience deserves content they can trust. I commit to the following standards:

Section 1: The Badge Commitments

I will only display a Trust Signal badge on my content if I have adhered to the specific standard it represents.

- The "COLLECTED" Badge: I will ground my content in original research or firsthand expertise. This means I will interview local experts, gather on-the-ground data, or survey real communities to inform my work.
- The "CURATED" Badge: I will be transparent about my creative and editorial process. I will label AI-generated sections, disclose composite edits, and explain how content has been curated to ensure clarity for the viewer.
- The "CREDITED" Badge: I will respect the intellectual property of others. I will attribute ideas properly, credit footage and images to their original creators, and link to my sources of inspiration.

Section 2: Responsible Use of the Badges

Honesty: I will not use a Trust Signal badge for content that does not meet its criteria. I understand that the value of this system depends on the integrity of its users.

Context: I will use the badges in a way that is clear and not misleading.

Feedback: I am open to feedback from my audience and peers regarding my use of the badges and will engage in constructive dialogue about my content's credibility.

Section 3: My Role in the Ecosystem

I recognize that my actions contribute to a larger goal of improving digital media. I commit to:

1. Being a positive example for other creators by demonstrating that ethical content creation is both valuable and effective.
2. Encouraging a culture of transparency and accountability within my community.
3. Using the badges to signal my commitment to quality, helping my audience find reliable information without friction.

Section 4: Verification and Accountability

I understand that:

1. My use of the badges is a public commitment to the principles outlined in this pledge.
2. The Trust Signal project team may conduct periodic reviews or surveys to ensure the integrity of the system.
3. I will participate in feedback sessions or interviews (if requested) to help improve the system for all creators.
